HELD AT THE ST. PAUL HOTEL, . ST. PAUL, MINN. , DECEMBER 6-7, IQIO THE OPENING SESSION. The conference was called to order by Mr. Z. D. Scott, President of the Minnesota Forestry Board, at 10: 30 a. m. Chairman Scott: Ladies and Gentlemen--I am very happy to call this conference to order, this being its first session. Last spring, at a meeting of the Minnesota State Forestry Board, our Governor, who is a member of the board, urged us to appoint a committee on legislation looking to additional legislation in reference to the prevention of forest fires. At that meeting the committee was appointed, and at a subsequent meeting it was found, because of the scope and work necessarily involved in the plans of the committee, that it would be desirable to invite our sister states, Michigan and Wisconsin, to participate in a conference to be held at some future time. At a still later meeting of the board, about the time of the conservation convention here in St. Paul, a general program was outlined. The Minnesota State Forestry Association very kindly and enthusiastically lent its cooperation and assistance, and it is under the auspices of these two organizations that the conference has been called. Let me say that we have been surprised and delighted to find the enthusiasm and the quick response which have met our suggestions in preparing for this convention. This is a very auspicious meeting,...
